The Way

We each have our way Our paths aren't the same We each have our day To act in His name

Our backgrounds are different Our talents may vary And so do the demons And crosses we carry

Step into His word Let go of your sins As you walk in His path Redemption begins

Open your ears Listen to His song Sing as you walk It can be your own

We each have our way But His way has a place In our actions and thoughts As we each run this race

We each have our way Our paths aren't the same But don't wait a day To act in His name
