James and John took Jesus aside. "Hey, Jesus, when you're in charge of the whole world, can we be your two most important sidekicks?"

"Hey!" cried Peter from across the room. "I heard that! I can't believe you asked to be more important than me!"

Mary nodded. "Yeah. Who says you're the greatest?"

"It's not?" asked Joanna.

"No. If you want to be great in God's Kingdom, the most important thing to do is love and serve others, not boss them around."

"That makes sense," said Nathanael. "That's how you treat us."

"God's Kingdom really is different. And better," added Susanna.
